

Everywhere You Are: The Worldwide Microcampus Network

Have you ever wondered what we mean when we say, “Everywhere You Are?” We have Microcampus locations all around the world, on university campuses, in residential communities, and in co-working spaces. Through these locations, you can study online and have a fuller college experience, live and study in a safe and engaging community, gain access to high-speed internet, and build a professional network. Most of these partnerships come at no additional expense, while others include a participation fee. We also offer dual degree programs through partner universities.

Take your courses online wherever you are. You choose your Global Experience.
